RECLAIM THE NIGHT 2008

national march against sexual violence
toward women and children
celebrating 30 years of taking back the night

Join women from all walks of life on the night of FRIDAY OCTOBER 31 as we rally and march through the streets of Hamilton protesting against violence toward women and children. Sexual violence and physical assault affects the lives of many women. According to the Australian Institute of Criminology, 84% of sexual assault victims in Australia in 2006 were female.

Let's come together to take back the night and demand the right to live free from fear. For all women, for ourselves, for those who can't be there—be there.
